AMERICA MOURNS PASSING OF PRESIDENT HARDING

Oath Taken by Coolidge at Plymouth

Vice-President Calvin Coolidge Became U.S. Leader Early To-day

IS RETURNING TO CAPITAL AT ONCE

New President Strong Man With Thorough Grasp of Public Affairs

Plymouth, Vermont, Aug. 3.—Vice-President Calvin Coolidge became President of the United States at 2.47 a. m. to-day, eastern standard time, when he took the oath of office in the living room of his father's farmhouse in this little mountain village where he was born.

Three hours earlier he had been notified of the death of President Harding and in a brief statement he expressed his grief at the passing of his "chief and friend" and his purpose of carrying out the policies which he began for the success of the American people. President Coolidge made immediate preparations to start for Washington. He left here for Rutland, on his way to Washington, at 7.30 a. m. eastern standard time.

COOLIDGE EQUIPPED FOR IMPORTANT OFFICE

Washington, Aug. 3.—Calvin Coolidge is perhaps better equipped by experience to take up his administrative duties in the White House than was any of his predecessors who have been called to that high office by the death of a President. Having won for himself in large measure the Vice-Presidential nomination by his executive forcefulness as Governor of Massachusetts, particularly by his attitude in the police strike, he has kept the Harding administration closely advised as to the problems of the Federal Government and has assisted in shaping administration policy with constant attendance at Cabinet meetings.

FAMILIAR WITH ALL PUBLIC QUESTIONS

Although Vice-Presidents usually have no other duties to perform than that of presiding over the Senate, casting the deciding vote when that body finds itself in a tie, Mr. Coolidge has absented himself from its sessions every Tuesday and Friday to participate in the Cabinet meetings. This he became familiar not only with all angles of the major public questions but also with the reasons actuating the President in his decisions. Not only has he given his best ability to work but he has done as much as any other member of the administration to discuss accomplishments before the people. He has traveled a great deal making addresses, and is said to have made more public addresses than the President or any member of his Cabinet.

IN INTIMATE TOUCH WITH ADMINISTRATION

His intimate touch with administrative affairs sometimes has brought upon him considerable pressure and some embarrassment from Senators and others who sought to obtain through his information concerning developments at the White House, or to have placed before the President particular views on pending issues. He usually has remained reticent under these trying conditions, however, refusing to discuss Cabinet meetings or to act as a go-between for those interested in having their views presented to the President.

NEW EXECUTIVE BORN ON INDEPENDENCE DAY

President Coolidge was born on Independence Day, 1872, in Plymouth, a remote country village in the hills of Vermont, the son of John C. and Fanny Coolidge.

POPE PIUS SENDS HIS CONDOLENCES

Rome, Aug. 3.—Pope Pius was deeply grieved for America in the loss of one of her "best sons," as he expressed it, and the Pontiff instructed Cardinal Gasparri, the papal Secretary of State, to convey his heartfelt sympathy and condolences.

NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF STATES; CALVIN COOLIDGE

President's Death Has Created New Complexities In Political Situation

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Harding's death throws new complexities into the political situation within the Republican party which undoubtedly will have far-reaching reflections in the national convention of next year. It probably will turn what many expected to be merely a ratification meeting into a contest for the Republican Presidential nomination with the stalwart conservative Republican forces aligned on the one side and the forces represented by such leaders as Senators Johnson of California, Borah of Idaho and La Follette of Wisconsin on the other.

Six months ago the renomination of President Harding without any substantial contest seemed assured. One of the men who was regarded as his likely principal opponent for the nomination had confessed to a colleague and a friend that he found himself without an issue.

The President's pronouncement for entry of the United States into the League of Nations, however, altered the situation materially and during the last few weeks there has come definite information through mysterious channels because political captains maintain their intelligence systems that all was not going to be as clear sailing as had been expected in the Republican convention of 1924 and that there might be a contest after all.

New York Now City of Silence

New York, Aug. 3.—New York today became a city of silence, mourning the loss of Warren Gamaliel Harding. Cabarets and roof gardens were the first to close. Unaware of the President's death, men of finance rose to face their daily tasks, but Wall Street forgot its barter. Banks, which are not permitted by law to close except on legal holidays remained open, but otherwise the financial district soon took on the air of a deserted village. On the streets, in the subways and on the elevated there prevailed an unusual hush. Fluttering everywhere were flags at half-mast.

BODY OF PRESIDENT TO START JOURNEY TO CAPITAL TO-NIGHT

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The body of President Harding will start on its journey across the continent to the national capital at 8.30 o'clock this evening, according to the latest official announcement made to-day.

PRINCE OF WALES CABLES MESSAGE

London, Aug. 3.—The Prince of Wales to-day sent Mrs. Harding the following cable: "Please accept my sincere sympathy in the great loss which you and the people of the United States have suffered."

TRAGIC END AS FOREIGN POLICY WAS TAKING SHAPE

Harding's Advocacy of Adherence to World Court Had Nearing Settlement

Naval Limitation Treaty Was About to Become an Actuality

Washington, Aug. 3.—The tragic end of President Harding's administration came at a time when several of the major projects of his foreign policy appeared to be nearing a decision.

It was well known among his friends that one of the influences impelling him to take the trip which ended with his death, was his desire to carry to the country his advocacy of American adherence to the World Court, expected to become the centre of a vigorous battle at the coming session of Congress. Within a few weeks the Naval Limitation Treaty, regarded by Mr. Harding as a lasting monument to his service in the White House is to become an actuality by a formal exchange of ratifications at the State Department.

Nearing completion are two negotiations designed to settle other troublesome questions in widely-separated corners of the earth. Discussions proceeding with Mexico are expected here to result very soon in a resumption of amicable relations between the United States and its neighbor on the south, while at Lausanne a Treaty is ready for signature restoring the relationship between Washington and Constantinople which was interrupted by the World War. In the absence of an official statement it is assumed that the pending negotiations will be held in abeyance as a matter of form until the new President has given his authority for their completion and has drafted in some measure the foreign policy he will pursue.

FACED BY GREAT PROBLEMS AFTER TAKING UP OFFICE

Few Executives Dealt With More Complex Problems in Times of Peace

Harding Was Man of Kindly Characteristics and a Resolute Will

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Whatever historians may say about the late President Harding there will probably be little dispute that few chief executives came to office in peace time facing problems more complex in their nature or greater in number. He brought to the Presidency an infinite patience and kindness in dealing with public questions and men which enabled him to handle the problems of Government without the stress and worry which had handicapped many of his predecessors.

CANADA'S SYMPATHY GOES ACROSS BORDER

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press)—Sympathy with Mrs. Harding in her bereavement was wired to her at San Francisco this morning by Premier Mackenzie King as follows: "My colleagues in the Government join me in expressing deepest sympathy with you in your great bereavement. Your grief is shared not alone by the people of the United States but in very real measure by the people of Canada. We recall with deep feeling the words of goodwill spoken but a few days ago by Mr. Harding on the occasion of the visit of the President and yourself to our country. In like spirit and sincerity we express to the people of the United States in the loss they have sustained, the profound sympathy of the people of Canada.

"In the feelings of international friendship between the public and ourselves, never stronger than they are to-day, we trust there may be something of consolation to you and to our neighbors in this hour of sorrow which we all share."

St. John N. B., Aug. 3.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader of the Federal House, to-day said: "The President had drawn to himself by a friendly tone and neighborly spirit pervading his public utterances, the goodwill of the Canadians. His visit to Canada, and his death will cause universal sorrow here and arouse as well sincere sympathy for his household."

Factor in Naval Limitations. His chief contribution was the Washington Arms Conference, at which the principal powers covenanted to limit the size of their navies and thus lift from lax-wary peoples the burden of maintaining the race for naval supremacy.

Peace Maker. Not infrequently Mr. Harding was called upon to play the role of

NATION STAGGERED BY HIS DEATH; PRESIDENT HARDING

Cerebral Apoplexy Was Cause of Death Physicians Agreed

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The five physicians who attended the President were united in their decisions as to the cause of death. In a statement issued last night and signed by all of them, they declared it was due to "cerebral apoplexy, or a rupture of blood vessels in the axis of the brain near the respiratory centre."

The statement emphasized that death from such a cause might have occurred at any time, and came after recovery from the acute illness from which he had suffered for a week in progress.

Was Thought On Road to Recovery. The statement showed conclusively that the physicians as well as everyone else believed up to the minute the Executive was subjected to the apoplectic attack that he was on the road to recovery. Three hours before the end came the most optimistic bulletin issued since the President was taken ill was made public. It said that he had spent the "most comfortable day since his illness began. The bulletin, was timed 4.30 p.m. The bulletin was so optimistic that there was a general letting down in the watchfulness that had attended the President's illness. The members of the Cabinet and their wives, the personnel of the executive staff and many of the newspapermen went out to dinners, where most of the talk was when the trip back to Washington would be started.

Change Dated From Previous Illness. A detailed statement by the physicians described the changes in the President's physical condition dating from last Spring, when the President, following a long period of overwork and great strain, was confined to his bed with an attack of influenza. This attack was more serious than the general public realized and its effects had not been entirely dissipated when the present trip was started in June despite the five weeks vacation spent in Florida and Georgia in March and early April. The President, it was revealed, has been subject to some attacks of abdominal pains and indigestion, and for some time there had been evidence of arterial sclerosis, enlargement of the heart and defective action of the kidneys. The statement then recited that the Executive had suffered an acute gastro-intestinal attack associated with abdominal pain and fever on the return trip from Alaska and told how he had insisted on going through with his programme in Vancouver, B.C., a week ago Thursday and at Seattle, a week ago today.

PRINCE DECLINES FREEDOM OF DUNDEE

London, Aug. 3.—The Prince of Wales has declined to receive the freedom of Dundee when he visits Scotland in October. His secretary states that the conferment of the freedom of Winchester in the Autumn will complete the freedoms of municipalities in the United Kingdom which the Prince will accept this year.

Recently at a meeting of the Dundee Council when the expected visit of the Prince was being considered a Labor member suggested that the Prince's coming "would bring home to the unemployed how to live without working." He admitted that the Prince worked hard but he worked in a non-productive capacity.

Another member of the Dundee Council said: "If you had been in France you would probably change your opinion of the Prince. In the first place he is the greatest ambassador the world has ever seen and he is also a brave soldier."

MILLERAND SENDS MESSAGE OF FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 3.—President Millerand called Mrs. Harding today the following message: "It is with a deep emotion that my wife and I learn of the death of President Harding. Our hearts are with you in your grief, and we wish to assure you of our deepest sympathy in the sorrow that comes so early to you and to the American nation."

President Millerand sent Lieutenant Demain from Rambouillet to the American Ambassador to convey officially the French Executive's condolences.

AMERICAN NATION IN MOURNING FOR DEATH OF LEADER

Sudden Passing of President Warren Harding Came As Tremendous Shock to American People Throughout the World; Body Will Be Dispatched By Special Train From San Francisco on Friday for Washington.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—A nation to-day mourned the passing of its leader.

The people of the United States from coast to coast and from the Lakes to the Gulf, and in the territories beyond the seas, bowed their heads in grief, for their President was dead.

Last evening, after a day which had brought renewed hope of recovery, death came suddenly and struck down Warren G. Harding with a stroke of cerebral apoplexy. The end came without even a second of warning at 7.30 o'clock. There was no time to summon additional physicians, no time to call the members of his official family and no time for medical skill to exercise its knowledge.

MRS. HARDING WITH HUSBAND AT END

Mrs. Harding, the constant companion of her distinguished husband, was faithful to the end. She was reading to him a few minutes before 7.30 o'clock when she noticed a shudder run through the frame of the man she had loved, encouraged in adversity and praised in success.

Before she could rise from her chair, Mr. Harding collapsed in his bed. Brigadier-General Sawyer, chief of the staff of physicians, and two nurses came hurriedly and did all they could, but it availed nothing.

CONDOLENCES SENT BY KING GEORGE AND QUEEN MARY

London, Aug. 3.—King George and Queen Mary to-day sent the following message of condolence to Mrs. Harding: "Mrs. Harding, White House, Washington: 'The Queen and I are much shocked and grieved to hear of the irreparable loss which has befallen you and assure you of our heartfelt sympathy in your sorrow. The whole British people will join with those of their sister nation who mourn the death of their President at the culminating point of his distinguished career.' (Signed) 'GEORGE R. I.'"

Great as was the shock to all who dwell under the United States flag and to peoples in many lands, for Mr. Harding, by virtue of his office, his kindly and jovial personality, his deep and noble character, had become a world figure, the greatest shock came to his wife reading by his side, but she did not collapse. "She was shocked, of course, and at first unable to realize that she had lost the husband who had made up all the interest in her life for so many proud and happy years," said General Sawyer later.

Mrs. Harding was standing the shock well early to-day, but whether she could stand up under the grief that bore down upon her as the sad journey back to Washington is made, was another question. Those who know her best believe she will.

When dawn crept over the mountains and lighted on the Golden Gate this morning almost complete arrangements for the trip, the saddest transcontinental journey in the history of the nation, had been made. The body will leave San Francisco on a special train at about seven o'clock Friday evening and go direct to Washington by way of Reno, Ogden, Cheyenne, Omaha and Chicago.

NOTABLE EVENTS IN CAREER OF HARDING

Washington, Aug. 3.—Constituted "high spots" in the events of the Harding Administration: Re-establishment of peace with Germany and Austria. The calling of the Arms Conference which approved the Naval Limitation Treaty and the Four-Power Pact. Ratification of the Treaty with Colombia resulting from partition of Panama. Revision of the tax and tariff laws. Restriction of immigration. Farm aid, easier credits on more liberal terms. Establishment of the Budget Bureau. Veto of the Soldiers' Bonus Bill. Extension of the programme of aid for wounded, sick and disabled veterans of the World War. Advocacy of American participation in the World Court.

French Tribute to President Harding

Paris, Aug. 3.—Premier Poincare to-day made the following statement: "All France bows in deepest sympathy before the bereavement of the United States. 'Only recently the press of the world recorded the noble words of President Harding, a magnificent legacy in which he recommended to his fellow citizens that the United States should participate in the Permanent Court of International Justice whose essential characteristics he outlined in admirable language. 'It is not this last act of a man about to give up his supreme power to enter the silence of eternity, the most beautiful counsel of a Chief of State to the country he governed and to the great people who had given him his mandate!'"

B.C. MOURNS LOSS OF PERSONAL FRIEND IN LATE PRESIDENT

Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State, Sends Official Notice of Death

The official flag was ordered at half mast on the big flag-pole in front of the Parliament Buildings by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Acting Premier, as soon as he learned of the death of President Harding.

Following this action flags on buildings in the city were put at mourning position, in respect for the man to whom British Columbia had taken such a fancy on his visit just a week ago.

Consul Notified. Official notice of the death of the President reached here early this morning in a telegram from Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State, at Washington. It read: "Urgent circular. President died very suddenly of cerebral apoplexy in San Francisco at 7.30 p. m. August 2. 'CHARLES E. HUGHES. This telegram was received here by R. B. Mosher, United States Consul here. He immediately notified by wire United States official agents up this island who are under the jurisdiction of the consul at Victoria. (Concluded on page 4.)"

Collapse or Capitulation Is Anticipated in Germany By Former British Premier

London, Aug. 3.—"Before the Commons meets again, one of two things may happen," declared former Premier Lloyd George in the House yesterday. "First, the collapse of Germany; second, the capitulation of Germany. What our policy is to be in the case of either, the House ought to know. Never before has the Government of this country got into such a position in its relations with the European powers. Here is a question which intimately concerns our commerce, our finance, our position in Europe, and we are not consulted."
At the outset Lloyd George deplored his inability to find any definite policy in the speeches of Premier Baldwin.

There was no secret diplomacy on the part of the French Government, continued Mr. Lloyd George. Premier Poincare, he added, had emphatically made clear he did not propose to negotiate with Germany until she capitulated and that France would not leave the Ruhr until the last payment was made to her. Having received overwhelming support for this policy, the speaker asked did they think they were going to induce M. Poincare to deviate from it by sending him a message? Was it not best to accept the situation?

PRESENTS FIGURES ON PUBLIC DEBTS

Comparison of Dominions Is Supplied Questioner in British House
London, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Captain Douglas Hacking, Vice-Chancellor of the Household, replying in the House of Commons yesterday to a question, stated that according to the latest particulars available the public debt of Canada on January 1, 1923, was $336,881,000, equal to a rate of 10.5 per cent of the European population of 252.88.
Corresponding figures for Australia on June 30 last, he stated, were £23,271,000 or £386 per head of the European population.
New Zealand's debt was £208,401,000 or £186 per head on the European population on March 31, 1922.
South Africa's debt on March 31, 1922, was £180,000,000 or £118 per head of the European population.

ALLEGED CHINESE MURDERER COMMITTED

Vancouver, Aug. 3.—Formal commitment of Chong Sam Hoon, on the charge of murdering C. J. Jones, who was fatally shot July 18, was made to-day by Magistrate Findlay.
Production of the confession alleged to have been made and signed by the accused, wherein he stated that he had never seen Jones until a few days before the shooting, when the man was seen to have taken him up, and a further statement that Jones slapped his face as he passed him immediately prior to the tragedy, closed the case for the Crown.

EXTRAVAGANCE CHARGED IN GOVERNMENT CIRCLES

London, Aug. 3.—Revelations of useless and wasteful expenditures in Government matters have been made in a report to the Commons Public Accounts Committee just issued. An instance is cited of two typewriters costing the country £120. The machines were hired at 20 shillings a month in an emergency and were retained until they had cost this sum.
Serious exception is taken by the committee to a pension conferred by the Board of Trade upon a clerk found guilty of embezzling light-house funds.
Certain premises in Wales were rented by the Government and were not needed after 1904, but through an oversight in the matter of terminating the tenancy the Government continued to pay the rent until 1915.
The Colonial Office is criticized for having failed to inform the Australian Government of a proposed internment camp in Australia not being required and thereby losing £12,000.
The committee has a good word for the Admiralty for its rapid clearing up of its war liabilities.

TO RID NATION OF PAPER MARKS

Germany Plans Internal Gold Loan of 500,000,000 Marks

Transition to New and More Healthy Currency
Berlin, Aug. 3.—Germany's new 12-year internal gold loan, capitalized at 500,000,000 marks is pronounced the first official step to rid the nation of the trillions of paper marks and substitute for them a currency system founded on the gold standard.
While no ultimate limit is set for the loan the present estimates predict that if the first 500,000,000 marks are bought up by patriotic Germans, the country will more than absorb forty trillions of paper currency now in circulation, virtually devaluing the paper mark as a unit of commutation and bringing about a transition to a new and healthy national currency.
As the marks are purchasable in small denominations, its certificates will soon be put in circulation as a medium of payment.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—The German Government has decided to issue the new internal gold loan of 500,000,000 gold marks on a gold basis, it was announced to-day. The shares will be based on the present value of the American dollar and will have a currency of twelve years, the loan to be exempt from the stock exchange and turnover taxes and inheritance duty. Both the interest and capital will be guaranteed by the whole German industry.

To provide interest on the loan, increases are planned in the income tax rates.

GENUINE SORROW THROUGHOUT CANADA

Premier King Expresses Sympathy With American Nation
Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Genuine sorrow will be expressed throughout the whole of Canada at the death of President Harding, said the Prime Minister, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in a statement issued this afternoon in which he expressed the sympathy of the Canadian people with the American nation on the death of the President.
"Though Mr. Harding had been in office a little more than two years," the Premier continued, "during the course of which time the tragic memories of years immediately preceding continued to overshadow current events, he had come to be known to Canadians as a man essentially of goodwill and of unassuming earnest and kindly purpose."
The Canadian Government, it is understood, will be officially represented on the occasion of the funeral of President Harding. Definite arrangements have been made, but it is considered likely that Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, will attend as the representative of Canada.
The Government has ordered that all flags on Dominion public buildings shall be flown at half-mast as a mark of respect to the late president.

States awarded him the highest gift and paid him the greatest honor within their power to bestow. President Harding was a man who loved "the home folks," and if he had had time to leave a parting word last night it undoubtedly would have contained instructions that he be buried in the town that knew him as "Warren," where he called most everyone by their first name. The body of the President will be borne on the special car as carried him to the West. It will be accompanied by the same party that accompanied the Executive when he left Washington June 29, with the addition of Attorney-General Daugherty, General Pershing and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Remberg and family, of Santa Ana, Cal. Mrs. Remberg is a sister of Mr. Harding.

NAVAL AND MILITARY HONORS WILL BE PAID

Naval and military honors will be paid the dead commander by the army and navy throughout the whole trip. Two soldiers and two sailors, members of the guard of honor of sixteen enlisted men and two officers will stand at attention beside the casket. The car bearing the body will be lighted at night and the whole train probably will be draped in black.
The body of the President lay today in the room in which he suffered and died. It will remain there before being taken to the train and just before that is done the very simplest private service will be held.

LAST ACT WAS TYPICAL OF MAN

Secretary Commanded to Deliver His Speech at Los Angeles
Address Reflected Much of the President as He Had Lived

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—(Associated Press).—One of the last acts of Warren G. Harding, directed by him after he had been driven by pain and illness to the bed where he died bespeke much of the man he was. It was typical and characteristic and followed the thought he had emphasized in his addresses not only on the trip to Alaska, but reiterated from time to time since he first became President. In this instance, the act was to command his secretary George Christian, Jr., to go to Los Angeles to deliver the address his illness made impossible for him to speak personally.
Words of Dead Chief.
The address was delivered to-day by Mr. Christian but the words were those of the deceased Chief Executive of the United States. They reflected much of the man as he lived, believed and publicly professed before the world and read in part as follows:
"We should glorify the Holy Name not by words, not by praise, not by displays of arms, but by deeds and service in behalf of human brotherhood. Christ, the Great Exemplar of our (Knights Templar) Order, repeatedly urged this truth upon His disciples. There was nothing mystical or mystical in the code of living preached by Jesus Christ."
Members of the party who traveled with Mr. Harding on his last trip across the country he loved, recalled that he spoke from the rear platform of his railroad car the Sunday morning when he arrived at Colorado Springs, Colo., in the same evangelistic vein that illustrates his character. On this occasion, the dead Chief Executive said:
"I tell you, my countrymen, the world needs more of the Christ. The world needs the spirit of the Man of Nazareth and if we could bring into the relationships of humanity among ourselves and among the nations of the world the brotherhood that was taught by the Christ we would have a restored world; we would have little or none of war and we would have a new hope for humanity throughout the earth. There never was a greater lesson than that of the Golden Rule. I would almost be willing to wipe out the other Commandments."

SAVING EXPENSE

Suppose, without notice to the public, a merchant formed a habit of closing his store for a few days every now and then, in order to save expense. It would have exactly the same effect on store patrons as the habit of dropping store-advertising ever so often has on the buying public. We want residents to buy-athome. The surest way of accomplishing this, is by keeping them informed of what they can buy at home.

CARIBOO DIOCESE

Thanks to further generous help from some of the church societies in England, the annual revenue of the Cariboo episcopal fund, dating from the beginning of next year, will be in the neighborhood of $2500. MR. LLOYD GEORGE MAY NOT COME

Doubtful if He Can Accept the Many Cordial Invitations to Visit Canada
London, Aug. 3.—Reuter's Agency to-day made public the following statement:
"Reuter's Agency is informed that the statement of the Canada Baptist Church officials in Canada that former Premier Lloyd George is to be the principal speaker at the World Brotherhood Conference opening in Toronto on October 4, it must have been made under some misapprehension. In view of the political situation it is doubtful whether Mr. Lloyd George will be able to leave for Canada, or if he does sail, whether he will be in the Dominion so late as October 1.
"Until circumstances permit, the ex-Premier can come to no definite decision and therefore can not accept the many cordial invitations made him by various Canadian organizations."

COTTON PLANTING IS SUCCESSFUL IN NEW SOUTH WALES

Estimated Cotton Acreage is 35,000

Sydney, N.S.W., August 3.—Experiments in cotton raising in New South Wales have been so successful as to more than double the cotton acreage in the estimate for next year. This increase in acreage is due to the discovery that cotton grows better under the conditions existing in the northern parts of the Australian continent than in other sections.

The cotton grown experimentally in the North Australian districts brings about one cent a pound more than that of other sections. In addition to producing a higher grade of cotton, the plants have been most prolific, and at Bonalbo, as many as 320 bolls have been obtained from a single plant.

The estimated cotton acreage for next year in New South Wales is 35,000 acres, and a ready market already awaits this growth, for the English spinners are anxious to buy cotton grown within the Empire.

Although it will be many years before the effect of Australian cotton will be felt in the world's market, the estimates for the next year are passed and it is expected that great strides will be made in production during the next decade.

Another important factor, less to the liking of the great English mill owners, is the appearance of a few independent mills in Australia. While the production of these mills is at present small, they are capable of growing with the increased domestic cotton production.

STREET RAILWAY SERVICE RESUMED AT MOOSE JAW

Moose Jaw, Aug. 3.—Service was resumed on the Moose Jaw electric street railway yesterday, the men deciding to go back to their positions following a meeting at which they were advised to do so by their international official, F. A. Hoover. The question of whether the discharged motorman was at fault, will be arbitrated, and he will be under suspension until it is established whether the company was wrong in dismissing him.

AFGHANS INSTALL RADIO AND ALSO BUILD SCHOOLS

Kabul, Afghanistan, Aug. 2.—Citizens of Afghanistan in their effort to become modern, have established a radio station at Kabul. This follows the opening of a communication line between Afghanistan and India. There is now a telephone line from Kabul to Kandahar, and it is possible to travel by automobile between these cities.

Since the abolition of slavery in January of 1921, great strides have been made in education in Afghanistan. There is a school for boys, training for 150 youngsters under 12 years of age, and several primary schools have been set up in the provinces. Compulsory school attendance has been decreed, though at present scarcely one person in a thousand can read and write. For the first time in the history of the country a press has come into existence, and five periodicals already have been established.

EX-SERVICE MEN THREATEN TO CAST TABLETS INTO SEA

London, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Memorial tablets put up in Swansea, Wales, in honor of the Swansea men who died in the war may be thrown into the sea by indignantly ex-servicemen of that town because the tablets bear the names of living aldermen, councillors and officials of Swansea. The ex-servicemen threaten to cast the tablets into the sea if the names of these civic representatives are not removed from them.

PRIEST SAYS FRANCE CANNOT YIELD ON REPARATIONS QUESTION

Williamson, Mass., Aug. 3.—Canon Ernest Dimmet, of France, said in an address before the Institute of Politics here that his country would "positively commit suicide" if it yielded on the reparations question. He said he could not understand what he characterized as a complete reversal of the attitude of Great Britain toward the Versailles Treaty.

DROWNED AT FERNIE

Fernie, B.C., Aug. 2.—Peter Zull, a thirteen-year-old lad, met death in the Elk River, Fernie Annex, Wednesday afternoon. He was in swimming with two or three other boys at the foot of McEvoy Street, when overcome by cramps and sank in deep water from which his companions could not rescue him. The body was recovered by H. Burrows, who was passing by, and taken to the morgue. The cause of the tragedy is being investigated by the police, and other volunteers, in about an hour. The parents reside here, Joseph Zull, the father, being employed at the Elk River Coal Company mines.

HECTOR MEDAL

Pictou, N.S., Aug. 3.—A Hector Commemorative Medal was presented here Wednesday to the family of J. G. Grant, Wrangal, Alaska, in recognition of the fact that the Grant family had covered more mileage in attending the recent Hector celebration than any other persons.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE SCORES GOVERNMENT

London, Aug. 3.—Former Premier Lloyd George, speaking on the reparations situation in the House of Commons yesterday, scored the Government for not having any definite policy. He declared that with the Parliamentary recess at hand and big events impending, the House was entitled to know what the British policy was to be.

Incidentally Mr. Lloyd George declared the sentimental factor of the French flag in the Ruhr and its bearing upon France's national honor must not be ignored and he questioned whether that situation should not be accepted.

HOUSEHOLD WOMEN COMING TO CANADA

The Empress of Scotland Has Noteworthy Passengers—Four Ships Due

Montreal, Aug. 3.—Four Canadian Pacific ships are due to arrive in port within the next few days, with several parties of household women figuring in their third-class lists. These passengers, immigrating from the British Isles to the Dominion through the assisted passage scheme under the Empire Settlement Act, the estimates for the next year are passed and it is expected that great strides will be made in production during the next decade.

To facilitate their transportation to Canada, a loan of 75 per cent of the fare was made on account, whereby the home-seekers fill a special form in addition to a form of recommendation, these forms having been obtained from the Canadian Government emigration agents in England.

Many of this class of workers are expected in Canada within the next few months, their passage having been authorized on board Canadian Pacific ships, as each liner carries a conductress. Assisted passengers are not obliged to go through any emigration society, but the Canadian Government requires them in the first instance to go as a party to a Canadian Women's Hostel. If a housewife, a mother, or a definite position with a specified individual in Canada she must proceed to the Canadian Women's Hostel first, and will then pass on to her employer.

Among the many noteworthy personages aboard the "Scotland" are Sir Frederick Becker, London, Eng.; the Hon. P. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London; the Hon. Sydney and Lady Della Peel, Percy Stewart, Montreal; Sir Campbell Stuart, K.C.E., Deputy Chairman of the Times Publishing Co.; J. S. McLean, general manager Harris Abattoir Co., Toronto; T. C. Eaton, of T. Eaton & Co., Toronto; the Hon. Senator Dandurand, Montreal; Mr. Dupont, Belgian Consul at Quebec; the Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., Calgary.

USE OF OVERSEAS CANTEEN FUNDS

Disposal of Canada's Share Rests With Commission's Recommendations

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—The disposal of Canada's share in the Overseas canteen funds, amounting to about $2,000,000, rests at present with a recommendation which is expected to be contained in the third and final report of the Ralston Royal Commission on pensions and re-establishment.

The use to which the funds should be put has been the subject of much discussion, but neither the ex-soldiers themselves nor the Government Department handling the ex-soldiers' affairs, have yet decided upon a course.

London, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press Cable)—"It is a remarkable circumstance," says the report of the select committee appointed by the Government to investigate the alleged irregularities of funds in connection with the administration of the canteen funds, "that most of the goods sold at low prices were sold to former officers of the canteen board who were friends of those who were directing the disposal thereof."

VICTIM OF BRUTALITY DIES AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Aug. 3.—Said to have been the victim of brutality on the part of two assailants, who kicked and beat him July 20, A. E. Hansen died in the general hospital. The police, it is understood, have a clue to the identity of at least one of the assailants and an arrest is expected.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—Rudolph Mureau, Mayor of the village of Gatineau Point, after he had admitted he had been twice arrested for bootlegging, "Ministers of the Crown and members of Parliament," was sentenced in Hall police court yesterday to one month in jail without option of a fine, on a charge of breach of the Quebec Liquor Laws. The case is being appealed.

Join the Millions of Men who today enjoy better shaves

Less time is used in the Dominion, now, for shaving. And the millions of men who save that time, are also saved sore, irritated faces.

Now we offer you the means to join these millions. To find out what they found out about shaving cream. No expense to you. We pay for the test.

And you will discover why we worked for 18 months, making 130 experiments, perfecting Palmolive Shaving Cream. You'll at once appreciate the 5 distinct ways in which it gives better shaves:

- By multiplying itself 250 times in richest lather.
- By softening any beard in one minute—without "rubbing."
- By the lather that lasts 10 minutes, if necessary.
- By the way extra strong-walled bubbles hold each hair erect, for easier, cleaner cutting.
- By that cool, soothed after-feel—the result of carefully blended palm and olive oils.

Millions of men could tell you. But it's more satisfactory to find out for yourself. If the test should fail—we are the only losers.

THE PASSING OF PRESIDENT HARDING.

All the world will share with the people of the United States the sorrow which has been occasioned by the loss of President Harding. The sudden illness which had interrupted his homeward journey had drawn the sympathetic attention of countless millions, both in the republic and beyond its boundaries, to the sick chamber in San Francisco and there was widespread gratification over the encouraging reports of the medical attendants which appeared to forecast an early recovery.

President Harding's career has come to an end before he had time to develop the policies upon which his place in the history of his country could be adequately determined. He was inaugurated two years ago last March, and it is obviously impossible to give a fair estimate of the accomplishments of his administration in that brief period.

While the comparative brevity of his service to his country as its chief executive has thus limited his opportunity to leave a greater mark upon its historical tablets, the world at large will always associate the name of President Harding with a Conference that produced a new relationship between the principal nations of the world and pointed a way to new and brighter things.

President Harding went farther than this in his efforts to discharge his own personal obligation to mankind in general. He exposed himself to attack on the ground of domestic policies that are bound up in the tenets of the party whose representative he was. Yet from his death-bed he continued to proclaim to the world that he would advocate United States membership in the International Court of Justice.

In his advocacy of these policies, and in his practical demonstration of real friendship with the nearest British country, it may be said that the late President Harding overtaxed his strength. His last journey was made in the interests of closer co-operation between the United States and the rest of the world.

Canadians will always cherish the memory of the late President Harding. His genuineness while in Vancouver last week, his kindness, his simplicity of manner under all circumstances and throughout the whole of the proceedings which marked his visit, will never be forgotten.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

Apart from the fact that Mr. Calvin Coolidge is a statesman by instinct and a student by choice recent American history bears witness to his capacity for administration in practice and his resolution in emergency.

The new chief executive differs in many respects from his late chief and friend. It is not to say that his somewhat more serious and meticulous conception of administrative position and obligation will bespeak a more efficient discharge of the duties which he is about to take up.

In Mr. Coolidge one may detect a striking resemblance to former President Wilson. His principal contrast, however, would lie in his more stable sense of public responsibility and his ampler capacity to withstand political onslaught.

Mr. Coolidge is the fifth Vice-President to be called to office before the expiration of the President's term. In his case he will take control of the affairs of the nation at a point in its history when the good work of his predecessor is bearing prosperous fruit.

Mr. Coolidge may look upon Canada as a good friend and neighbor. He may take to his new duties the knowledge that the two nations which are working out their problems in peaceful association side by side will continue to be guided in their international relationships by the gospel which an unfortified boundary line so mutely but convincingly preaches.

THOUGHT THEY WERE NOT WANTED.

According to a dispatch from Quebec something like two hundred skilled mechanics arrived at that port yesterday with tickets to the United States. They gave immigration officials to understand that they would have preferred to have settled in Canada but were under the impression that this country had neither room nor welcome for their particular class.

It goes without saying that the farm worker gets the warmest welcome at this time of the year. But it is equally true that Canada can no more afford to turn new people away than it can afford to give the Canadian National Railways to the Government of Mexico.

There is too much nonsense talked and written about selected immigration. We are not in a position to hand pick our new people. We must take chances and let the first law of nature do the rest.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Still comes the news that many Canadians who migrated to the United States are wanting to return to Canada. And quite right too. If the prospect of a 500,000,000 bushel crop would not tempt them it is difficult to know what would.

Italy has announced her intention of paying her debts to Great Britain and the United States irrespective of whether she gets anything in the way of reparations or not. This is an excellent example which might be emulated by other European countries that have so far shown no inclination to satisfy John Bull's "little" account.

There is now no doubt about Britain's attitude towards the occupation of the Ruhr. The statements by Premier Baldwin and Marquis Curzon yesterday do not mean that the Entente is to be destroyed; there is nothing in them which suggests that co-operation is still impossible.

Times Book Review

What ought to be a very interesting book is a memoir of his life just completed by James Mavor, who for over thirty years has been Professor of Political Economy in the University of Toronto.

News has been received from England of the death of Mr. Thomas Seccomb at Torquay, in his fifty-eight year. Two years ago this well-known English critic came out to Canada to be Professor of English Literature in Queen's University, Kingston.

Admirers of Robert Louis Stevenson will be interested to learn that the natives of Samoa have adopted as a chief Mr. John Russell, author of "Where the Pavement Ends," a volume of short stories which has already gone into twelve editions and of a new collection, "In the Dark Places," Samoans have dubbed Mr. Russell "Tofeafoa Tuitaita."

An Oxford debater recently wrote to Mr. Kipling for an explanation of his famous lines, "Oh, East is East, and West is West, And never the twain shall meet."

A volume of special interest to Canadian and American lawyers is "The Law of the Kinsmen" (Hodder and Stoughton, Toronto) by Lord Shaw of Dunfermline. It is a memorial of the recent visit paid by this eminent Scottish lawyer to America.

Suds all through
Cleansing soap in every drop of water

Put your hand in a tub of Rinso suds. You can feel that the water is actually soapy all through.

This is one reason why Rinso soaks clothes clean without hard rubbing.

A few minutes at night—just the little time you need to put the clothes to soak in these rich suds, and Rinso suds work down into every fold and fibre, loosening the dirt without weakening a single thread.

Just a light rubbing with Rinso on cuff edges, neck bands and the like, gets them clean—the dirt is loosened.

Be sure to use enough Rinso to get the big lasting suds, that give the water a soapy feel all through.

Rinso is made by the largest soap makers in the world. It is sold everywhere.

years, through the medium of "Down to the Sea in Ships," and with the able aid of Captain Tilton, this notable mutiny is preserved as a bit of historical record in the picture film.

CAPITOL

What are boyhood's biggest thrills? The steaming engines dashing to a fire, the circus acrobat poised perilously on the trapeze, the college eleven tearing through their opponents' lines, a horse run out in the ninth inning with the score tied?

Yes, all of these, but who can gain say that the biggest "kick" of all is that awe-inspiring event, the spectacular evening train pulls into the station with its monster locomotive, its streaming headlights, its pump laboring like some giant's stentorian breathing, the red glare of its firing box when the lid is thrown open, illuminating the grimy countenance of the engineer at the cab window. Fascination, what delicious terror this spectacle aroused when unfolded to adolescent eyes! Even with age creeping on, the glamor does not quite wear off. In fact, the startling impressions of youth at sight of the big mogul of the shiny rails will be brought back to mind forcibly with the presentation here at the Capitol Theatre of Emory Johnson's latest—spectacular screen drama "Westbound Limited."

Johnson's past successes—"In the Name of the Law" and "The Third Alarm," are still fresh in the minds of theatregoers and will serve to arouse anticipation in the forthcoming offering. A policeman and a fireman were the heroes of these productions, and, carrying out the Johnson programme of inventing the humble heroes of life with screen immortality, the dominant figure of "Westbound Limited" is a locomotive engineer, whose masterful characterizations of the pivotal characters in the earlier Johnson productions have stamped him as the foremost character delineator on the American screen will enact the central role of Engineer Bill Buckley in "Westbound Limited," and supporting him will be almost the identical cast which made itself beloved in the aforementioned dramas, including Claire McDowell and Ella Hall.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Riding a horse fleet as the wind, oblivious of the hazards that barricade the road to victory, strong, agile, and smiling the smile of pleasing assurance, Tom Mix romps through "Just Tony," the Fox picture, which will be shown again to-day at the Royal, with a series of new thrills and exciting situations. The production brings out all the salient characteristics of the big volume which has contributed to his enormous popularity. It is Mix at his best.

THE PLAYHOUSE

They say repetition proves a bore, but in the case of "The Hottentot," at the Playhouse, which is being repeated this week, it would seem that the reverse is the case. Judging by the enthusiastic attendance and by the roars of mirth which have greeted the play, the continuance of it this week has been thoroughly warranted. All the favorites of the company give a splendid performance in this most hilarious of farces, and the whole production is completely new and amusing and entertaining yet staged by this popular group of players. After a warm day out of doors, or at business, no finer thing could be found than a good laugh and a mirthful evening spent in the coolest theatre in town—the Playhouse.

COLUMBIA

Every Tom Mix picture provides at least one new and distinct thrill for the entertainment and amusement of movie patrons. The resourceful and ever original "stunt artist" of the screen never fails his admirers who can always expect a breezy thrilling screen film narrative. Without any exceptions the stunt performed by Mix in his latest William Fox picture, "3 Jumps Ahead," which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, are the most daring ever attempted before the camera.

In this latest story of the Western plains, Mix mounted, leaped a canyon twenty feet wide and ninety feet deep, undoubtedly the longest and most daring leap ever performed by a screen actor.

In the picture which he built around a band of cattle rustlers, Mix is pursuing a stage coach in which the leader of the band is riding. To throw off pursuit the rustler takes a bridge over a deep canyon destroyed after the coach has passed over safely. Mix rides up to the canyon and, after taking a short run back for a good start, successfully forces his horse over the chasm and continues the chase.

This scene, which flashes on the screen for but a few minutes, had to be carefully planned because of a former experience Tom Mix had with his favorite mount. During a personal appearance tour of New York city the year "Tony" suffered a bad fall in the Fox Audubon Theatre. A runaway had been built from the stage to the centre aisle and Mix rode swiftly down the aisle and guided "Tony" up the plank runway. But the horse's feet slipped and the animal slid across the apron of the stage. While no injuries were caused by the fall, "Tony" was very nervous during the time he remained in the theatre.

Mix, who never has used a double, has thrilled motion picture fans in previous pictures by jumping from a horse to a fast moving train; riding down steep mountain sides; leaping from a bridge to the river below with his horse; jumping from one roof to another roof and then crashing through two stories to the basement; and in his last picture Mix jumped his horse into a moving freight car.

The mutiny staged by Elmer Clifton, producer and director of "Down to the Sea in Ships," which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre, on board the square-rigger, "Charles W. Morgan," was in no sense of the word a "straw-berly festival," but a real he-man fight. Captain James A. Tilton, engaged as skipper of the craft, which was engaged for an actual whale hunt in the Caribbean Sea, rehearsed with Mr. Clifton an actual mutiny which he participated in years ago, and which was staged with genuine and realistic fury, Captain participating in the fighting.

The chains and cage which constituted the "brig," in which the villainous first mate is incarcerated after the mutiny, was procured from the Dartmouth Historical Society, and were the original chains in which were brought back the prisoners in the famous mutiny aboard the schooner "Bounty," that sailed the seven seas in the long ago. HISTORIC BARQUENTINE PUAKO IS UP FOR SALE

E. B. Marvin & Co. Announce the Opening of Tenders; Vessel Had Eventful Career Under Captain "Hell Fire" Pederson; Is Four-Masted Vessel of 1,500 Tons Weight.

The historic four masted barquentine Puako, of Hind, Rolph & Company, of San Francisco, is for sale to the best bidder. For two years the sailing vessel has been lying in the Esquimalt Harbor waiting for instructions, and now comes the announcement that she is to be sold.

In Lumber Trade. The barquentine is a 1,500-ton vessel and operated in the lumber trade between Victoria and Vancouver to South Africa and Australia.

The announcement recalls tales of former days when the vessel had a most eventful career under the command of Captain Pederson, more commonly known as "Hell Fire" for the fact that while in port he was "gentle as a lamb" and while at sea lived up to the "nickname" given him.

Served Term. Captain Pederson, it will be remembered, served a term in prison for committing murder on the high seas. It was also alleged that he killed a man by knocking him overboard and when the sailor clung to the line hanging from the taffrail, shook him off and let him drown.

He had a punch that would lay a man out at one blow, and did not forget to use it to advantage. The Puako is in good condition, having been placed in charge of Captain Helms, who is a very able Captain, and has been careful that the vessel was kept in good condition. She is now worthy and if bought will probably be placed in the lumber trade, as she is very suitable for this traffic.

SIR THOMAS ROYDEN DEFENDS ALLEGATIONS

Glasgow, Aug. 3.—A defence of the British shipping companies' methods of handling emigrant traffic to the United States was given to the annual meeting of the Anchor Line yesterday by Sir Thomas Royden, chairman of the board. He declared that the British companies had an absolutely clear conscience when the restrictions came into force, that the lines adopted a plan whereby bookings automatically ceased when the quota was filled and that there was no justification of the allegations in the United States Immigration Officer Curran against the British lines.

IS HERE AFTER LONG ABSENCE. Capt. Storey Knew Esquimalt First Forty Years Ago

An interesting visitor at present in Esquimalt is Captain Storey, who is renewing acquaintance with this locality after an absence of thirty-eight years. His first visit to Esquimalt was in 1885, and he has many interesting memories of those days. He was in Vancouver just before the town was wiped out by fire, in 1886, and on returning to Esquimalt, received orders to go back at once, with a supply of blankets and other comforts for the homeless survivors of the fire. The Vancouver of today which he proposed to visit, on leaving Victoria, will be a striking contrast to that scene of desolation.

CUSTOMS TO CLEAR AUTOS ON BOARD

New Arrangement Saves Delay and Inconvenience on Arrival at Port Angeles. New regulations effective immediately provide for the Customs clearance on the boat of British Columbia cars for Port Angeles. The Port Angeles Commercial Club and the Puget Sound Navigation Company, at the request of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, made the negotiations with the U. S. Customs, and George I. Warren, Publicity Commissioner, has been notified of the successful outcome, and of the fact that the new rule goes into effect at once. The cars will be cleared before the boat docks, so that automobile owners can drive right off the boat on arrival at the American side. The new arrangement will be a great convenience to motor car owners, as it will eliminate considerable delay and inconvenience that has been experienced in the past when the clearance was necessary after the boat docked at Port Angeles.

SALVOR COMPLETES WORK ON RAINIER

Will Probably Shift to Seattle To-morrow—Vessel Is Drawing 19 Feet

The Rainier, which was rammed in the fog last Saturday by the Mandasan Maru, and which is at present lying in Esquimalt Harbor, is floated and ready to move to Seattle almost any time. It is expected that she will be shifted to-morrow night after the patch, which has been placed over the hole, is reinforced. She is now drawing only nineteen feet of water.

Two pumps were rigged up, the ten-inch and the five-inch ones, and the water taken out. Progress from this stage was rapid, and the vessel was literally dry this morning. The patch had been so well fixed that the water only gained six inches in two hours when the pumps were not working. The vessel, however, is now dry and when the patch has been reinforced, will not probably need the Salvor's pumps. The vessel will be taken to Seattle to-night, but the move was postponed to allow for the reinforcement. She will be shifted to-morrow.

Siberian Prince. Some 2,000 tons of lumber and spelter have been taken from the Siberian Prince in the lightning work which is necessary before the vessel can be floated. The Pacific Salvage Company has six 400-ton scows and one transfer barge with a capacity of 2,000 tons on the job, and it is expected the floating will soon be completed. It is thought that not more than five thousand tons will be necessary to lighten the ship to enable the floating.

Work commenced on No. 2 hold this morning, it was stated, so that operations on floating the vessel will be started probably in the early part of next week.

Machin is a native of Ireland, and has been married five times in the last ten years, according to the police. He was married five times.

METAGAMA BRINGS U.S. IMMIGRANTS THROUGH QUEBEC

Quebec, August 3.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Metagama, in command of Capt. W. Henderson, from Glasgow and Belfast, has arrived at Quebec with 1,460 passengers, 332 cabin and 1,078 third class. The cabin were 204 booked for the United States, coming from Scotland and Ireland, and the experienced mechanics seeking employment in the Western States.

In the third class were 600 out of 1,078 destined for settlement in the United States, all British artisans of experience. They said they would have preferred to have settled in Canada, but were given to understand that expert mechanic were not required in Canada.

Port officers who visited them and their accompanying families, expressed pity that such a superior mass of Scotch and Irish settlers were lost to Canada. Among the new Canadian settlers who arrived in 1902, the Metagama, 100 women domestics, who came out under the auspices of Salvation Army Empire settlement system.

Law and Fifth Officer W. W. Pearson, were handled during the daring and hazardous work of the rescue, over one thousand permanent farm helpers were delivered to their destinations.

SCHOLARSHIP GIRLS LEFT FOR COLLEGE

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 3.—The four young English girls, winners of the Sir Henry Thornton scholarship, who have spent the past seven weeks in Western Canada, left Wednesday for the Agricultural College for a short course in practical farming. The past five weeks these "Farmerettes" have lived at the Manitoba Agricultural College, where they have been studying animal husbandry, poultry, dairying, horticulture, and many other subjects pertaining to agriculture and even carpentry. Before leaving the college the girls elected Professor C. N. Lee an honorary member of their organization, the Federation of young farmers clubs of Great Britain presenting him with their club badge during their stay in Winnipeg. While traveling to the Coast over the national route the girls made many friends and stated when leaving that they very much regretted that they could not remain in the West.

INTERPRETATION OF IMMIGRATION ACT SHOCK TO RUSSIANS

Canadian Ports Where U.S. Immigration Officials are Stationed Barred

President Madison Is Bringing 194 Russian Refugees From Orient. Immigrants who were hoping to enter the United States as soon as the next quota comes into operation by waiting at Victoria and Vancouver immigration sheds have been given a shock by a recent interpretation of the immigration department at Washington in connection with the quota law.

Passengers for the United States arriving at Victoria when the quota is exhausted, and expecting to wait until it is lifted at the first of the month, are to be barred. When they reach this port they will be considered as having reached a United States port when the quota is exhausted, and will not be permitted to wait the opening of a new quota.

Coming on the President Madison are 194 Russian refugees. It is thought that the greater majority of these will have to return to the Orient again, as already the Russian quota for August has been reached. Only professional men are exempt, so that it is quite possible that some will pass through.

Quota Figures. According to New York dispatches the August quotas were exhausted to-day on Bulgaria 16, Turkey 428, Spain 25, Palestine 15, Portugal 438, and Syria 185. The remaining small European and Asiatic countries 33.

ARIZONA MARU WAS RUSSIANS FOR U.S.

Osaka Shosen Kaisha Steamer Left Yokohama on Thursday Last

Cable advices reaching Rithets Consolidated this morning state that the Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamer Arizona Maru, Captain D. Fushigami, left Yokohama on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and would reach Victoria on August 14.

The vessel has some 100 tons of cargo for Vancouver, while Victoria cargo consignment has not yet been ascertained. She is also bringing a considerable quantity of mail including the usual consignment of aircraft matter.

Traveling in the first saloon are 29 passengers for Seattle and one for Victoria, while in the steerage are 23 passengers for Seattle and 20 Russians. Once again the immigration question arises as to what will be done with the Russians. New developments indicate that all Canadian ports where American immigration officials are stationed are barred to immigrants. The quota in the United States has already been reached, so the only alternative is to send the Russians back.

GERMAN PLANS FOR LARGE LINERS

According to the Liverpool "Journal of Commerce," Germany has intentions to regain her position as operator of the world's largest ship. The "Journal" says: "Having been completely out of the world's largest ship, Germany's shipping interest, apparently bent on replacing or perhaps surpassing these famous vessels, and they are grappling with the financial and technical questions involved in a most business-like way. The suggested dimensions are something over 900 feet for length and 100 feet beam, and the speed aimed at is about 22 knots, which is less than some of the big vessels already running on the New York-Europe service. The engineering scheme is to have four shafts with four engines on each, which at the present limits of internal combustion-engine design should enable about 6,000 horse-power to be developed."

PANAMA CANAL TOLL FOR MONTH OF JULY PASSED TO TWO MILLION

Ships Passing Through Canal Paid $2,124,429—Canal Route Growth Shown

Panama, Aug. 2.—Tolls paid by the ships passing through the Panama Canal amounted to $2,124,429 during July. It was the first month in which the two million dollar mark was reached. Four hundred and eighty-three vessels used the waterway.

The remarkable growth in traffic through the Panama Canal in the last four years is revealed in an official statement. When the canal was opened trade started in 1915, American steamship companies began their return to the intercoastal route. An increase from seven to 112 ships west-bound and from nine to ninety-three east-bound is shown by the Panama Canal "Record" in comparison for May covering the last four years. Cargo tonnage in the Pacific in 1922, seven ships from the Atlantic to the Pacific in May, 1920, carried but 28,295 tons, while the vessels transiting in May, 1922, aggregated 1,972,216 tons in May handled 31,625 tons. The nine ships headed eastward in 1922 had only 60,832 tons, as against 916,104 tons on the ninety-nine in May last year.

Many Records Broken. The May record shows further that twenty-four shipping board vessels went through the canal, of which sixteen were employed in the inter-coastal trade, eight in the inter-oceanic and eleven general cargo vessels. The total cargo carried through the canal during May was 2,124,429 tons, a new high record, comparing with the previous record of 2,187,145 tons in the preceding April. The net tonnage of vessels, Panama Canal measurement, also established a new high record, amounting to 2,128,414 tons against the April total of 2,097,490 tons. A further record was established in tolls aggregating $1,972,216 compared with $1,878,938 in April.

The number of commercial ships passing through the canal in May was 419, or ten in excess of the previous record of 409 established in March, 1922.

INDIAN PARLEY WILL BE RESUMED HERE ON TUESDAY

Dr. Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent of Indian Affairs, Arrives Here

The series of conferences of Indian Department officials with a delegation from the Indian tribes in British Columbia, will be resumed here on Tuesday. Dr. Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, who arrived here this morning with Mrs. Scott, made this announcement to the Times on arrival.

These conferences began in Vancouver last week, and the delegation represents the executive committee of the Indian allied tribes. An adjournment was taken to August 7 in order to permit the members of the delegation to confer with their own chiefs, and put a specific set of suggestions before the Indian Department while its representative is on the coast.

Dr. Scott also explained that his department was engaged in a number of negotiations with the Department of Lands, arising out of the report of the Indian Lands Commission, and that was a contributing factor to his visit here. He laid the foundation stone of the new Quaquetza Institute building last week.

The department is making steady progress in developing educational facilities for the Indians, the Deputy Superintendent stated, and the dilapidated buildings at Kamloops are to be replaced. New buildings are gradually being added throughout the Province. British Columbia aborigines, generally speaking, he finds to be prosperous, and the demand on the Department to aid indigency has been normal since the serious loss of life occasioned by the influenza epidemic of 1918, which caused so much mortality among the Indians.

Dr. Scott is also inspector of Agencies for B. C., while in Victoria.

His Literary Work

Apart from his official duties, Dr. Scott is widely known throughout the Dominion for his literary work both in prose and verse, and his attachment to the Canadian Authors' Association. He has announced one or two new works, including a library edition of the poems of Archibald Lampson, who is regarded as Canada's greatest nature poet. This will be issued in the Fall.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott will be on the island for about ten days, making their headquarters at the Empress Hotel.

INDIAN PARLEY WILL BE RESUMED HERE ON TUESDAY

Dr. Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent of Indian Affairs, Arrives Here

The series of conferences of Indian Department officials with a delegation from the Indian tribes in British Columbia, will be resumed here on Tuesday. Dr. Duncan C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, who arrived here this morning with Mrs. Scott, made this announcement to the Times on arrival.

These conferences began in Vancouver last week, and the delegation represents the executive committee of the Indian allied tribes. An adjournment was taken to August 7 in order to permit the members of the delegation to confer with their own chiefs, and put a specific set of suggestions before the Indian Department while its representative is on the coast.

Dr. Scott also explained that his department was engaged in a number of negotiations with the Department of Lands, arising out of the report of the Indian Lands Commission, and that was a contributing factor to his visit here. He laid the foundation stone of the new Quaquetza Institute building last week.

The department is making steady progress in developing educational facilities for the Indians, the Deputy Superintendent stated, and the dilapidated buildings at Kamloops are to be replaced. New buildings are gradually being added throughout the Province. British Columbia aborigines, generally speaking, he finds to be prosperous, and the demand on the Department to aid indigency has been normal since the serious loss of life occasioned by the influenza epidemic of 1918, which caused so much mortality among the Indians.

Dr. Scott is also inspector of Agencies for B. C., while in Victoria.

His Literary Work

Apart from his official duties, Dr. Scott is widely known throughout the Dominion for his literary work both in prose and verse, and his attachment to the Canadian Authors' Association. He has announced one or two new works, including a library edition of the poems of Archibald Lampson, who is regarded as Canada's greatest nature poet. This will be issued in the Fall.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott will be on the island for about ten days, making their headquarters at the Empress Hotel.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Sandman Story For To-night

WHY THE PINE TREE SIGH.

Little Brown Bear lay watching the stars twinkle and wink at him through the branches of the pine trees that grew just outside the door of the cave where he and Mother Bear lived. Little Brown Bear was not sleepy, for he had taken a very long afternoon nap. But he meant to be still, just as his mother had told him to do, and not bother anyone by talking or moving about.

"I wonder what makes the pine tree sigh," he said at last to himself. He lay quiet a little while longer. Then slowly and as quietly as a clumsy little brown bear can move he got up and walked out of the cave.

"Hello, bat," he cried. "Come down here a minute, will you?" That bat flew down and landed on a bush by the side of Little Brown Bear.

"You ought to be at home and in bed," said the bat, who was old. "Well, then," said Little Brown Bear, "so ought you."

"Oh, wait a minute," said Little Brown Bear. "I want to ask you more questions. Why does the wind make the pine tree sigh?"

"Oh, because it does," snapped the bat, getting cross, for he wanted to be off on his nightly travel.

ried for home and snuggled down in his bed of leaves close to his mother. "I guess Mr. Bat is right," he said sleepily. "If I didn't have a nice fur coat and a nice cave to sleep in I guess I would sigh like the pine tree."

"Victoria should be the playground of this continent, for there is no more beautiful spot on the continent. Vancouver Island has beautiful roads and scenery, a beautiful climate and everything people can want. I cannot understand why people should leave for Banff and Lake Louise. There is no country in the world more appealing than this," he said.

J. T. CROWDER TO REPRESENT B. C. AT MERCHANTS' SESSION

J. T. Crowder, British Columbia vice-president of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, left yesterday for Montreal, where, on August 7 to 9, he will attend the annual convention.

One of the main issues to be considered will be to ascertain the position of retailers when the new 6 per cent. sales tax becomes effective on January 1. The Association desires to know definitely who is to pay the tax and where it is to be absorbed on articles on which the manufacturer's selling price is uniformly fixed. It is a question which practically every retailer in Canada is interested.

As a result of the convention, said Provincial Secretary W. F. Ing, it is anticipated that Dominion trade sections will be immediately organized throughout the Dominion and a national trade section will be organized with duty to look after special trade problems.

Arrangements are also being made to have the Dominion executive committee wait upon the Government with regard to the sales tax as affecting importations and bakers, in order that a definite ruling may be handed down.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE MINES

To Open Babine Property

After spending the past few months at Burke, Idaho, P. J. Higgins has returned to Smithers to carry on considerable work on his two promising mining properties in the Babine, says The Interior News. Mr. Higgins is accompanied by John Dunphy, of Wallace, Idaho, who is interested with Higgins in the claims at the head of Driftwood Creek on which some work is to be done immediately. Later on the Victoria property, owned by Mr. Higgins, will be given some attention by way of further opening up of the strong veins opened up in work covering several years. Mr. Higgins states that the town of Burke was destroyed recently by fire and that while no lives were lost everyone lost all belongings. Mr. Dunphy's prospects, lost in the fire was around $15,000. At a meeting of the Slocan Consolidated Silver Mines, Limited, held at Nelson, final payment was authorized on the company's property, the Wellington Mine at Retallack. The payment is $3,500.

Clerk: "What is this note of yours about? I've tried for an hour to read it and can't!"

Manager (after a careful study of the epistle): "I'm not quite sure, but I think I wrote it to tell you that you'd have to improve in your writing if you wanted to keep your job."

H.G. WELLS' FAMOUS OUTLINE OF HISTORY

The Romance of Mother Earth

The Catastrophe of 1914

A Forecast of the Next War

The failure to produce a more satisfactory world settlement in 1919-20 was, we have suggested, a symptom of an almost universal intellectual and moral lassitude resulting from the overstrain of the Great War. A lack of fresh initiative is characteristic of a fatigue phase; every one for sheer inability to change, drifts on for a time along the lines of mental habit and precedent.

Nothing could be more illustrative of this fatigue inertia than the expressed ideas of military men at this time. It will round off this chapter in an entirely significant way, and complete our picture of the immense world interrogation on which our history must end, if we give here the briefest summary of a lecture that was delivered to a gathering of field-marshal, generals, major-generals and the like by Major-General Sir Louis Jackson at the Royal United Service Institution in London one day in December, 1919.

Lord Peel, the British Under-Secretary of War, presided, and the reader must picture to himself the net too large and quite dignified room of assembly in that building, and all these fine, grave, soldierly figures quietly intent upon the lecturer's words. He is describing with a certain subdued enthusiasm the probable technical developments of military method in the "next war."

Outside, through the evening twilight of Whitehall, flows the London traffic, not quite so abundant as in 1914, but still fairly abundant; the omnibuses all overcrowded because there are now not nearly enough of them, and the clothing of people generally shabbier.

Some little way down Whitehall is a temporary erection, the Cenotaph with its base smothered with a vast pathetic heap of decaying wreaths, bunches of flowers and the like, a cenotaph to commemorate the 800,000 young men of the Empire who have been killed in the recent struggle. A few people are putting fresh flowers and wreaths there. One or two are crying.

The prospect stretches out beyond this gathering into the grey vastness of the London, where people are now crowded as they have never been crowded before, whose food is dear and employment more uncertain than it has ever been.

But let not the spectacle be one of unrelieved gloom; Regent Street, Oxford Street and Bond Street are bright with shoppers and congested with new automobiles, because we must remember that everybody does not lose by a war.

Beyond London—the country sinks into night, and across the narrow sea are north France and Belgium devastated. Germany with scores of thousands of her infants dwindling and dying for want of milk, all Austria starving. Half the population of Vienna, it is believed unless American relief comes quickly is doomed to die of hardship before the Spring.

Beyond that bleak twilight stretches the darkness of Russia. There, at least, no rich people are buying anything, and no military men are reading essays on the next war. But in icy-Petrograd is little of the east of England in 1917-1918 knows, this means the promiscuous bombing of any and every center of population. But of course the bombing of those "prentice days" would be the chief play in the bombing of the "next war." There would be countless more aeroplanes, bigger and much nastier bombs.

Sir Louis, proceeding with the sketch mentioned the "destruction of the greater part of London" as a possible incident in the coming struggle. And so on to the culminating moral of the highest pay, the utmost importance, the freest expenditure, must be allowed to military gentlemen. "The expense entailed is in the nature of an absolute necessary insurance."

With which his particular audience warmly agreed. And a certain Major-General, a little forgetful of the source of his phrase, said he hoped that this lecture "may be the beginning not of trust in the League of Nations, but in our own right hand and our stretched-out arm!"

Not What World Wants.

But we will not go on with the details of this dream. For indeed, no Utopia was ever so impossible as this forecast of a world in which scarcely anything but very carefully sand-bagged and camouflaged G. H. Q.'s would be reasonably safe, in which countless bombers would bomb the belligerent lands incessantly and great armies to and fro, churning the fields of the earth into blood-streaked mud.

There is not energy enough and no will whatever left in the world for such things. Generals who cannot foresee the conditions of warfare are already much profunder than such authorities as Sir Louis Jackson suspect.

Apparently these military authorities of the United Service Institution did not even know that warfare aims at the production of the conditions of mind in the enemy, and is sustained by states of mind.

noon between five and seven. Come and see me whenever you can.

He opened the door and she passed in, looking back at him with a little wave of the hand before she vanished lightly into the shadows. Tallente dismissed the cab and walked back towards his rooms. His light-heartedness was passing away with every step he took. The cheerful little groups of pleasure-seekers he encountered seemed like an affront to his increasing melancholy. Once more he had to reckon with every strange mad weeding of loneliness which had made its disturbing entrance into his thoughts within the last few years. It was as though a certain weariness of life and its prospects had come with the temporary cessation of his day-by-day political work, and as though an unsuspected desire, terrified at the passing years, was tugging at his heartstrings in the desperate call for some tardy realization.

Tallente met the Prime Minister walking in the Park early on the following morning. The latter had established the custom of walking from Knightsbridge Barracks, where his car deposited him, to Marble Arch and back every morning, and it had come to be recognized as his desire, and a part of the etiquette of the place, that he should be allowed this exercise without receiving even the recognition of passersby. On this occasion, however, he took the initiative, stopped Tallente and invited him to talk with him.

"I thought of writing to you, Tallente," he said. "I cannot bring myself to believe that you were in earnest on Wednesday morning."

"Absolutely," the other assured him. "I have an appointment with Darrine in an hour's time to close the matter."

The Prime Minister was shocked and pained.

"You will dig your own grave," he declared. "The idea is perfectly scandalous. You propose to sell your political birthright for a mess of pottage."

"I am afraid I can't agree with you, sir," Tallente regretted. "I am at least as much in sympathy with the programme of the Democratic Party as I am with yours."

"In that case," was the somewhat stiff rejoinder, "there is, I fear, nothing more to be said."

There was a brief silence. Tallente would have been glad to make his escape, but found no excuse.

"When we beat Germany," Horlock ruminated, "the man in the street thought that we had ensured the peace of the world. Who could have dreamed that a nation who had played such an heroic part, which had imperilled its very existence for the sake of a prince, was all the time rotten at the core!"

The meal came to a conclusion with scarcely another serious word. Susan departed in due course, and Tallente called for his bill, a short time afterwards, with a feeling of absolute reluctance.

"Shall we try to get in at a show somewhere," he suggested.

She shook her head.

"Not to-night. Four nights a week I go to bed early and this is one of them. Let's escape, if we can, before Mr. Miller can make his way over here. I know he'll try to find coffee with us or something."

Tallente was adroit and they left the restaurant just as Miller was rising to his feet. Nora sprang into the waiting taxi with a little laugh of triumph and drew her skirts on one side to make room for her escort. They drove slowly off along the hot and crowded street, with its long-drawn-out tangle of polyglot shops, foreign-looking restaurants and delicatessen establishments. Every one who was not feverishly busy was seated either at the open windows of the second or third floor, or out on the pavement below. The city seemed to be exuding the soaked-in heat of the long Summer's day. The women who floated by were dressed in the lightest of muslins; even the plainest of them gained a new charm in their airy and butterfly-looking costumes. The men walked bareheaded, waistcoatless, fanning themselves with straw hats. Here and there, as they turned into Shaftesbury Avenue, an immaculately turned-out young man in evening dress passed along the baked pavements and dived into one of the theatres. Notwithstanding the heat, there seemed to be a sort of voluptuous atmosphere brooding over the crowded streets. The sky over Piccadilly Circus was almost violet and the luminous, unneeded lamps had a festive effect. The strain of a long day had passed. It was the pleasure-seekers alone who thronged the thoroughfares. Tallente turned and looked into the corner of the cab, to meet a soft, reflective gleam in Nora's eyes.

"Isn't London wonderful!" she murmured dreamily. "On a night like this it always seems to me like a great human being whose pulses you can hear beating, beating all the time."

Tallente, a person very little given to self-analysis, never really understood the impulse which prompted him to lean towards her, the slightly quickening sense of excitement with which he sought her, the kindness of her eyes. Suddenly he felt his fingers clasped in hers, a warm, pleasant grasp, yet which somehow or other seemed to have the effect of a barrier.

"You asked me a question at dinner-time," she said, "why I disliked James Miller so much."

"Don't tell me unless you like," he begged. "Don't talk about that sort of person at all just now, unless you want to."

"I must tell you why I dislike him so much," she insisted. "It is because he once tried to kiss me."

"Was that so terrible a sin?" he asked, a little quickly.

She smiled up at him with the candour of a child.

"To me it was," she acknowledged, "because it was just the casual caress of a man seeking for a momentary emotion. Sometimes you have wondered—or you have looked as though you were wondering—what my ideas about men and women and the future and the marriage laws, and all that sort of thing really are. Perhaps I haven't altogether made up my mind about it, but I do know this, because it is part of myself and my life. The one desire I have is for children—sons for the State, or daughters who may help some. There isn't anything of which I'm so sure while for a woman thinking about for a moment. And yet, do you know, I never actually think of marrying. I never think about whether I've in right of wrong. I simply think that no man should ever kiss me, or hold me in his arms, unless it is the man who is sent to me for my desires, and when he comes, just whoever he may be, I never it may be, and whether St. George's opens its doors to us or whether we go through some tangle of words at a registry office or whether neither of these things happens, I really do not mind. When he comes, he will give me what I want—that is just all that counts. And until he comes, I shall stay just as I have been ever since my digital and my skirts came down."

She gave his hand a final little pressure, patted and released it. He felt, somehow or other, immeasurably exalted by her revealing words. Speech, however, he found an impossibility.

"So you see," she concluded, sitting up and speaking once more in that conversational manner—"I'm not a bit modern really, am I? I am just as primitive as I can be, longing for the things all women long for, and unashamed to confess my longing to any one who has the gift of understanding, any one who walks with his eyes turned towards the clouds."

Their taxicab stopped outside the building in which her little flat was situated. She handed him the door key.

"Please turn this for me," she begged. "I am at home every after-

MOTOR CAMP WINS PRAISE OF VISITORS

Many Visit Gorge Beauty Spot for the Band Concert and Gala
Number of Cars Now at Curtis Point Is Record for Season

A dusty gravel-stained car bearing a California number plate, and seeking a haven in the Curtis Point Auto Camp at sundown last night, brought the number of cars for the day to 58, the high mark of the season, and the nearly-eight hundred registrations since the camp opened for the Summer.

Auto tourists and Victoria residents mingled last night in good fellowship. The band concert by the 14th Canadian Scottish and a programme of novelty island events staged by the Victoria and Island Athletic Association were the joint attractions. The weather was highly favorable for the concert, and the perfect setting of the camp stood out in all its beauty with the sun shining brightly in the early part of the evening on the shimmering waters of the Gorge, while the trees offered a shady retreat before the cool of the evening from the sun's rays.

Lined With Spectators
The bank opposite the swimming tank was lined with campers and citizens, who at this spot found a place where they could both enjoy the band music and watch the water sports. An excellent programme was given by the band under Bandmaster Miller which drew cordial applause. The novelty events on the aquatic programme were also keenly appreciated by both the visitors and the local people in the crowd. Boxing on logs, canoe tilting and centipede races, and a test between the skill of an angler and the strength of the well known Victoria swimmer, Audrey Griffin, looked to a fishing line were among the novelties. After over ten minutes' struggling with the fisherman's rod bending and his line

OAK BAY COUNCIL IN BRIEF SESSION

Court of Revision to Be Held September 10—Town Planning Act

The attitude of the Town Planning bill, to be introduced at the next session of the Legislature, liquor profits appropriations, and other matters, occupied the Oak Bay Council last evening.

The question of the danger of falling timber from oak trees, introduced in a communication to the council by C. C. Pemberton; was referred to the Works Committee, while application was made at the Forestry Department of the Provincial Government for information regarding the trees, and the danger attached to falling limbs caused through decay. There is a feeling of sympathy with those who are in favor of keeping the oak trees, which are hard to replace.

The council passed a motion agreeing to pay half of $170, the estimated cost, to construct the proposed steps of liquor profits appropriation. The Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee presented a sketch of the proposed steps.

Will Build Steps
A meeting of the Court of Revision has been called to take place on September 10, to approve special assessment rolls which have been prepared. The improvements are on Sunset and St. Ann Streets, and total $1,956.74. The first levy, it was decided, would be made next year.

Notice was given of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities' annual convention, which was held at Prince Rupert, but the location of which is yet undecided, some subscribing councils considering that it should be held in Vancouver. The matter was referred to the Reeve.

The half-yearly financial report has been handed over for discussion.

Tax Sale Lot

The first tax sale lot to be sold under the new agreement with Victoria really met with disposal of when the council decided to accept the offer made by an applicant through Alfred Carmichael for a lot at $350.

The Premier's request for Oak Bay's opinion on the proposed Town Planning and Rural Development Act was read and a reply was instructed to be sent early attention, it being an important one, and recommendations are to be suggested.

A letter from Saanich Council relating to the changing of the name of Charlton Street where it runs through a small section of Saanich led to the statement that a Charlton Road already existed in Oak Bay Municipality. It was explained by Mr. Blandy, clerk, that the action taken by Saanich gave Charlton Street the name—one in Oak Bay, one in Saanich and a third in Victoria. The street is located near the Willows. Further consideration will be given the question.

Objection was made by the Cadboro Bay Stage and Taxi Service, operators of the "All-Grey" cars, against "pirate" cars cutting in on their route and carrying passengers. The letter stated that unless the line could be afforded some protection it would be impossible to continue the present service between Cadboro Bay and Victoria, and between the Highlands terminus and the Cadboro Bay beach. The council promised to give the communication favorable consideration.

STATES ISLAND IS ATTRACTIVE RESORT

Most Beautiful Place on Western Continent, Says W. Reid, Tourist

Wesley Reid, a tourist from California, who, with his party, has been for three months on the road, mentioning in all parts of the western continent, stated on his return to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday that Vancouver Island was the finest place for scenic beauty and general attraction that he had yet had the opportunity and privilege of visiting. Mr. Reid has only lately come across the Banff-Windermere Highway, through the Rocky Mountains and up the highways of America from California, and this island, he believes, is more beautiful than anything else he has seen.

Mr. Reid was greatly attracted to the fishing possibilities farther north, about Cowichan and Cameron Lakes, and other equally famed places. Fly fishing, as is not generally known, is as good on this island as anywhere else in the world. Real fishermen hold the man who trolls for fish in contempt. It is the fly fisherman who is the true sportsman. Mr. Reid is satisfied that fly fishing here cannot be surpassed, if it is equalled, anywhere.

Wherever he has driven on the island, this tourist has found hotel accommodation much to his liking. Everything possible is done to make tourists comfortable, and a general atmosphere of comradeship and welcome pervades the hostels and road-houses on the highway going north. There are guides who can tell the tourist the best places to fish, and will conduct them there and instruct them in the practical art of catching a meal from a stream or lake. In this way many tourists to the island are made boosters for a place which deserves every recognition as one of the great playgrounds of the world, and one which is rapidly becoming world-famous. Frank Glavin, of the Publicity Bureau, stated to The Times this morning.

BOMB EXPLOSION

These societies have local bodies in every part of Canada and the United States. Prominent speakers on the programme will include Hon. James J. Davis, U. S. Secretary of Labor, Hon. James E.
