CLARK'S SPECIAL CONNECTION TO THE 4TH OF JULY

Submitted by Al Shipley, Rahway Library Research Consultant and City Historian

by Ole Erikson, Engraver, c1876, Library of Congress

(The Township of Clark is named after Abraham Clark. Clark was the 5th Ward of Rahway until 1863 when the citizens of that area asked to break away and form a new township. The officials in Rahway agreed, and requested they name the new town, Clark.)

Americans across the United States celebrate July 4th as the moment in history when our country declared its independence from Great Britain in 1776. We mark the day with parades, picnics, and fireworks and it's easy to forget the fifty-six brave gentlemen who signed their names on a piece of parchment bearing the title, The Unanimous Declaration of The Thirteen United States of America. For each of the signers, it was a momentous expression in which they committed their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to the noble cause of liberty. One of these courageous patriots was Abraham Clark.

Clark was born and raised in Roselle and as a young man worked as a surveyor. This field led him to the study of law, a profession he could employ to settle land disputes and property titles. A good deal of his business was transacted in the larger village of Rahway where he became known as the "Poor Man's Counselor." His family also traveled to Rahway on Sundays to worship in the small Presbyterian Church which stood on St. Georges Avenue.

As the fiery talk of separation from Great Britain began, Clark found that he closely identified with the patriotic cause, and by 1774 had become a bold advocate of independence. Aware of the great dangers in which the colonies were placing themselves, he wrote, "We can die but once . . . We are now embarked in a most tempestuous sea . . . It is gone so far that we must now be a free independent state or a conquered country."

In 1775 his neighbors elected him to the Provincial Congress of New Jersey and in June of the next year he was appointed to the Second Continental Congress which was meeting in Philadelphia.

Clark was well aware of the penalty for treason. Had the British won the war, all signers of the Declaration would have been executed. Fear of this possible fate, however, did not sway him from his obsession to sever relations with the mother country.

During the war years Clark did suffer severe hardships. The Redcoats destroyed all of his property, and two of his soldier sons were captured and held on the notorious prison ship, "The Jersey," a vile, floating jail where thousands of American prisoners perished. The conditions aboard the ship were horrible and the Clark boys suffered special hardships because of their father's connection with the rebels. Clark was even promised the release of his sons if he abandoned the American cause, but he refused to betray his country.

Clark was unique in that he was the only member of Congress to serve throughout the entire war. He was re-elected three times and was chosen to represent New Jersey at the Philadelphia Convention in 1787. Due to ill health, however, he was unable to attend this famous convention where our Constitution was being framed.

Clark died at the age of sixty-eight and is buried in the Rahway Cemetery. Residents of Rahway and all of Union County should be proud that of the five signers from the New Jersey Colony, only Clark is buried in this part of the state. Abraham Clark is a name out of the rich pages of Rahway history and a name we should remember as we prepare to celebrate the birthday of our country's independence.

STUDENT SAMANTHA RING UPDATES CRUSADER WEIGHT-ROOM

This spring, the Arthur L. Johnson weight-room received a much needed update as student Samantha Ring graciously volunteered her time and skillfulness by updating and beautifying the weight-room walls with paintings and motivational quotes.

"Art is my passion. When I was participating in the Ironworkers and using the weight room for training, I felt the room needed something inspirational on the walls. I brainstormed with Mr. Del Conte, and came up with this mural for the wall, using the school mascot as the subject. My friend, Mrs. Del Conte, helped me through the process. When students use the weight-room after I have graduated, I hope they will be inspired to be the best they can be."

Christopher Marcin, who is an established

Teacher of Art and Graphic Design at Arthur L. Johnson High School, along with being the Head Winter and Spring Track and Field Coach, said the following about the act of generosity: "Samantha did a great job. I love seeing my students create art work throughout the school. It really brings a sense of school pride."

Gus Kalikas, Supervisor of Athletics, Health, and Physical Education at the Clark School District said "Samantha kindly donated her time and effort in order to help the Crusader Athletic Family. It was a wonderful act of selflessness that Samantha has shown which speaks to her great character and devotion to the Arthur L. Johnson Crusader school culture. The Crusader weight-room, and all of Arthur L. Johnson High School, is a better place because of her."

DAISY GIRL SCOUTS GET A “KICK” OUT OF LEARNING SELF-DEFENSE

Submitted by: Alicia Scipioni Daisy Girl Scout Troop Leader 425

Sensei Angel Albanese from the Clark Cuong Nhu Shojin Dojo was excited to have the opportunity to work with Daisy Girl Scout Troop 425 at the Clark Public Library. The program focused on two forms of self defense, bullying at school and self defense against strangers. Self defense for 5 and 6 year olds is a bit different than it is for older children and adults yet the basic principles emphasized are the same. She emphasized the importance of being Aware, Alert, Anticipation,

Avoidance, and Action are a big part of the Cuong Nhu philosophy of self defense. During the seminar Albanese not only talked about avoiding situations where strangers can attack, but also how to protect yourself if you can't get away. The most important weapon the girls should always use is their “voice.” The girls practiced dropping to the ground kicking and using phrases like “Stranger Danger.” Albanese said “ I think they liked kicking and punching the bag most... well karate is fun.”

Students from Cuong Nhu School Gabriella Scipioni and Marisa Venturella also came to help demonstrate the different techniques the girls could use. The seminar was not only informative, but fun too. Each Daisy Girl Scout earned a “Self-Defense Patch” thanks to Sensei Albanese.

Albanese holds the rank of Shodan and teaches at the Clark Shojin Dojo Cuong Nhu karate school. Ms. Albanese also serves as Councilwoman at Large in Clark. Councilwoman Albanese takes great pride servicing her community and helping the Girl Scouts which is a large part of the Cuong Nhu philosophy - especially at the library where you might spot her.

Councilwoman Angel Albanese volunteers her time at Brewer School teaching Karate on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7-9 pm all year long. Classes are free for children, teens and adults. Cuong Nhu gives families an opportunity to work out together since anyone age seven and over can participate. The Cuong Nhu Shojin Dojo has been in Clark for 26 years and has touched the lives of many. The school is under the direction of Sensei Rosario Fico. Other instructors / Senseis include former Director Keith Ford and Don Massarelli.

2012 SPRING ATHLETIC AWARD RECIPIENTS

On May 30, 2012, the Arthur L. Johnson Athletic Department held their 2012 Spring Athletic Awards. The evening, sponsored by the Crusader Athletic Booster Club, was held in the ALJ auditorium.

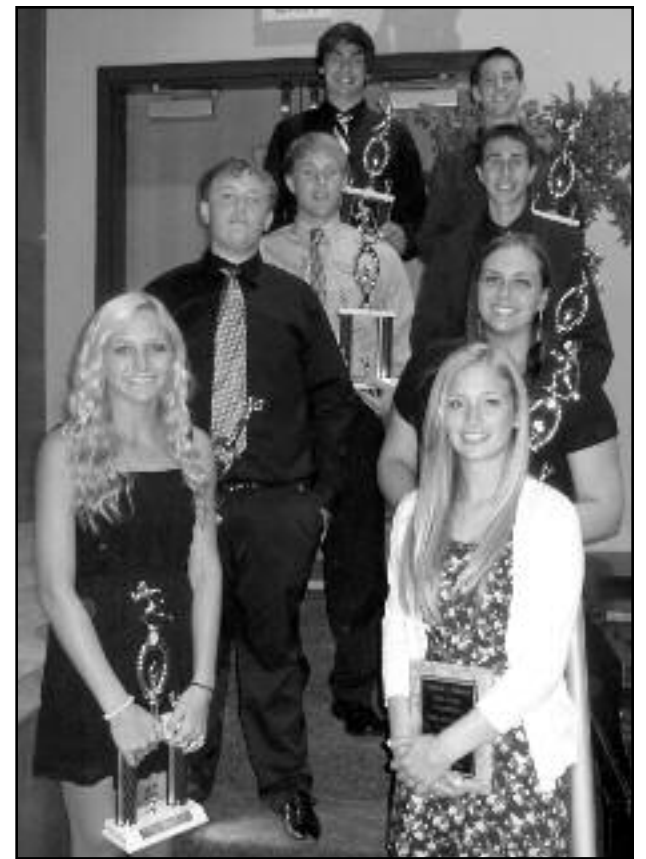

All the spring athletic teams and their seasons were highlighted by their coaches while handing out letters and awards to the student athletes. Over 120 varsity athletic letters were handed out throughout the evening, as participation in athletics at Arthur L. Johnson High School continues to grow.

The program continued with the Student Athlete Award, which was presented by the Principal of ALJ High School, Mr. Rick Delmonaco. The Student Athlete Award is given out each athletic season to a student athlete that is not only a champion on the field, but in the classroom as well. The 2012 Spring Student Athlete award recipient was Loretta Vill.

The evening culminated with the announcement of the Team Most Valuable Players. The MVPs were: Baseball – Nick Wroblewski, Golf – Bobby Stulpin, Lacrosse - Kevin Eipel, Softball – Alison Meagher, Tennis – Daniel Mullin, Boys’ Spring Track & Field – Michael Vieira, Girls’ Spring Track & Field - Amanda Wnorowski.

The Supervisor of Athletics, Health, and Physical Education, Gus Kalikas, had this to say about the event: “The Spring Sports Awards was a wonderful event that allowed the administration, teachers, coaches, parents, and student athletes a chance to reflect on a wonderful spring sports season while honoring our student athletes for their remarkable accomplishments. Our teams, coaches, and student athletes continue to raise the bar both in the classrooms and on the athletic fields and the Clark School District could not be more proud of their performance this past spring sports season.”

HEHNLY KIDS CARE FOR RELAY FOR LIFE

Students at Frank K. Hehnly Elementary School in Clark participated in various PTA sponsored events in support of the American Cancer Society Relay for Life. The students had two days to “Toss Your Coins for a Cure” in the Main Lobby of the school. The students also participated in a Hehnly “Mini Relay for Life”. Students walked with their buddy classes for 20 minutes around the school in honor of those who have been touched by cancer and remember loved ones lost to the disease. About $1,000 will be donated to the Clark Relay for Life under the group name “Team Hehnly Kids Care”.

CLARK GIVES & SHARES THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Back in mid-March on a beautiful Saturday morning we had several troops meet at town hall where we had our first, Clark Give & Share Throughout the Year "DRIVE THROUGH" Food Drive. You didn't even have to get out of your car to make a donation. People just pulled in, popped opened their trunk or doors, and the scouts grabbed the bags of food. So three of our high school volunteers, helped carry all the canned and boxed goods, from the town hall storage room, into the truck. When it was all said and done, the truck left town hall, fully packed. Another set of volunteer families followed the truck back to St. Johns the Apostle Food Pantry and helped unload.

The Clark Give and Share Program continues to collect non-perishable food items for the pantry. Food items can be dropped off Monday-Friday at the Clark Municipal Building, 430 Westfield Ave., room 18 between 8:30 a.m.-3:00 p.m. The continued support of this program by the community is greatly appreciated.

Anyone with questions can contact Nancy Raymond, Health Officer at 732-428-8405.

2012 ALJ ART SHOW

On the evening of May 21st, the Arthur L. Johnson High School Art Department of Clark, presented their annual art show. Teachers Christopher Marcin, Brad Terhune, Bryan Klimchak and Janice Gossman proudly displayed students' artwork from their variety of art classes. In addition, linoleum prints were being sold by Mrs. Gossman's crafts class with proceeds designated for charity. The art show included works from the beginning drawing classes, pottery from Mrs. Gossman's classes, and original puppets from Mr. Klimchak's puppetry classes. Highlighted were works of the advanced class, Open Studio. The following advanced art students each presented two panels of individual work, which included artists' statements: Rose Arcure, Jessi Costanzo, Joana Couto, Angelo Fagan, Alison Fernandes, Taylor Kobryn, Joshua Law, Tyler McManus, Taylor McSorley, Raquel Mendez, Karen Mulligan, Sarah Panetta, Samantha Ring, Noel Rotondo, Samantha Vargas, and Filip Wojcik.

At the opening reception for parents and students, Open Studio teacher Christopher Marcin introduced each student and awarded them a certificate of participation. In addition, he indicated the individual artist's future college and aspiration. "Open Studio is an advance course which culminates the various sequences of the art program. I am so happy our artists are able to showcase their talents and share their passion with everyone," commented Marcin. "ALJ offers a variety of courses and extracurricular activities, and the arts remain an integral part of our school community.

During the reception members of the public and parents circulated through the exhibit. Arthur L. Johnson media specialist, Kate Ryan, was pleased to see the art work in the IMC. "The annual studio art show has found a most welcome home in the Instructional Media Center", she said. "The art teachers at ALJ High School have truly inspired their students to create beautiful and thoughtful artwork. It was fun to see the seniors take such great pride in their displays, and to see the interest and commentary that the art show drew from students and faculty." Although the week long art show concluded on May 24th, the artistic journeys are just beginning as the Open Studio students pursue a major in the arts at the college level.

ADJUSTING TO MIDDLE SCHOOL

Dale Baumwoll, author of the children's books "There's No Room for You, Maddie Morrison" and "You Can Make a Difference Maddie Morrison," delivered a well received presentation to fourth and fifth grade students and their parents recently at the Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark.

Each fifth grade student in the District read the book "There's No Room for You, Maddie Morrison" as a school reading assignment. The book highlights the adventures of the main character, Maddie, as she transitions into sixth grade and middle school. Through reading the book, youngsters come to realize strategies and techniques for adjusting into the middle school, as well as the value of communicating with one's parents about school and issues that might be arising throughout the school day.
